The Environmental World

THE ENVIRONMENTAL WORLD
1:30,000,000
1133mm x 933mm (52.5" x 36.7")

The World's environment is under threat from many directions, oil spills being just the latest example. Deforestation is just one further example covered in a series of inset maps which also look at urbanization, land degradation and climate influences. Man-made pollution, natural phenomena and environmental impacts such as coastlines under threat from a rise in sea level, are also covered in this brand new educational map.
